Congratulations, Long Island High School Marching Bands!

Over the past two weeks, thousands of Long Island students from nearly 50 high school marching bands showcased their dedication and talent at the 62nd Annual Newsday Marching Band Festival at Mitchell Field, the New York State Band Conference Championships at Syracuse University's Carrier Dome, and the US Bands Championships at Crum Stadium, Allentown, PA.

We celebrate the thriving music education programs across Nassau and Suffolk Counties, and commend our talented student performers, teachers, and supervisors for delivering exceptional, inspiring performances. We also extend our deepest gratitude to school administrators, band families, and local boards of education for championing the arts and their ongoing support of student musicians and music education in our communities.
